ATTENTION ALL CADETS:

Pinning Ceremonies

The short-sleeve “blues uniform” is the required and official uniform for all cadets for all pinning ceremonies within NCS. The blues uniform must be complete and proper for the ceremony (and at all times when you wear it). This includes all insignia, ribbons, nameplate, etc. In addition, all cadets must meet CAP grooming standards.

If you do not have your blues uniform in proper order, you will not participate in the pinning ceremony. You will be promoted but not pinned. All cadets should obtain and wear their blues uniform as soon as possible after joining NCS.

Eagle Talon V

2009 ORWG Encampment

Please see the information below about the Oregon Encampment.

David Jadwin, Lt Col, CAP

NCS Commander

I invite you to send cadets from your wing to Oregon's encampment next month. Sharing experiences and best practices helps all of our wings' cadet programs and Monmouth is a wonderful place in August!

If you're interested in your cadets attending our encampment please circulate this notice in your wing. Please call me if you have any questions.

Invitation To All PCR Wings:

ORWG is hosting Eagle Talon V 2009 Encampment at Monmouth Military Academy, Monmouth, Oregon. Basic Encampment will run from Aug 22, 2009 to Aug 29, 2009. This is a Military Style Barracks with Army Reserve Cooks preparing meals, and your day starts at 0530 with Physical Training followed by a shower and formation at 0700. Then its breakfast Army Style followed by a day of hard training that will challenge not only your physical being, but also your mental abilities.

When you graduate you will have made friends that will last a life time and you will go home with a feeling of accomplishment that will make your parents proud.

If you are up to the challenge click onto the following link, and follow the instructions. Applications must be received by Aug 1, 2009. You must have prior approval from your Unit Commander and Wing Commander.
